Course Description
This course introduces students to the basics of anthropology, its role within the humanities, and its relevance to modern-day society. It addresses the basic question of how our cultural and social shaping in large part makes us what we are as human beings. The course focuses on the similarities and differences in human societies and cultures, in order to promote a fuller and deeper understanding of the nature and meaning of being human in today’s world. In this semester, the course will focus around the theme of religion and wonder in urban life. We will explore the diversity of religious life, its solidarities, negotiations and contestations in urban spaces across the globe.

Learning Outcomes
1. Students will acquire a holistic understanding of different regions, cultures and societies across the globe;
2. Students will develop their own judgment and sense of values through the comparisons of different regions, cultures, and societies;
3. Students will acquire skills in analyzing contemporary social problems;
4. Students will come to understand how anthropology is linked to the humanities in its emphasis on the culturally sensitive understanding of common human concerns.

Assessment Details
1) Tutorial Participation: Part of your responsibility is regular attendance and participation in tutorial discussion in person or on ZOOM. The awarding of high participation points comes with good attendance and active, thoughtful, consistent class participation, the kind that reveals your thorough preparation and engagement with class materials. This means contributing your own ideas as well as providing constructive responses to other students’ comments. Attendance will be taken for the lectures and tutorials on Zoom.

2) Midterm Exam: You will be given a take-home midterm exam with short-answer questions based on the revised readings and lecture presentations. The questions will be distributed about one-week before the due date. This should be in English, 12-point font, Times New Roman. Due on March 10, upload to Veriguide.

3) Out-Of-Class Assignments (20 %): To help you apply the topics and readings to contemporary problems and issues, you will have to finish two out-of-class assignments. For these assignments you have to find sources that can be understood or investigated through the specific concepts, theories or problems discussed in the readings. You are free in your selection. Sources could be a newspaper article, ‘youtube’ clip, blogpost, movie, advertisement, song, etc. The only restriction is that the source you chose has to be in English (online link or PDF). As part of this assignment you will have to write a short accompanying note, in which you explain why the source you chose is related to the class readings of the week, what anthropological questions or problems it raises, or answers it provides. This note should be about 200 words. Assignment 1 is due by March 27, and Assignment 2 by April 24. Please post your assignment on Blackboard.

4) Final Exam: You will be given a take-home final exam with short-answer questions based on the revised readings and lecture presentations. The questions will be distributed about one-week before the due date. This should be in English, 12-point font, Times New Roman. Due on May 6, upload to Veriguide

Please turn in your work on time. Late assignments will be deducted one-third of a letter grade per day (A to A- for example). All written assignments must be submitted to VeriGuide. Assignments without a signed declaration from VeriGuide will not be graded.
